CALL FOR PAPERS
Workshop
Behavioral Decision Theory and its Applications to Economics and Finance
Organizer: Nicola Gennaioli (CREI, UPF and CEPR)

Location and date: Barcelona, June 8-9, 2012

Submission deadline: January 2nd, 2012

On behalf of the Centre de Recerca en Economia Internacional (CREI) and the Centre for Economic Policy Research (CEPR), we invite you to submit a paper for a workshop on boundedly rational/behavioral decision making and its implications for economics and finance. The workshop will be hosted by CREI and funded by the European Research Council under the European Union's Seventh Framework Programme (FP7/2007-2013)/ ERC Grant agreement no. 241114. It will take place in Barcelona, at the campus of the Universitat Pompeu Fabra.

Topics of particular interest for submissions include:

- Context dependent choice
- Inattention to news
- Applications to economics and finance

The following distinguished speakers have agreed to present a paper at the conference: Nicholas Barberis, Xavier Gabaix, Botond Koszegi, Efe Ok, Andrei Shleifer, Rani Spiegler and Michael Woodford. We will accept around 12 papers for presentation in the workshop. Presentations will start in the late morning of the 8th of June and finish in the afternoon of the 9th, leaving ample opportunity for discussion among the participants. Travel and accommodation expenses will be reimbursed according to CEPR guidelines.

To submit a paper (or express your interest to participate in the conference), please email Rachel Aveyard (raveyard@cepr.org), attaching a draft or extended abstract of the paper in PDF format. The deadline for submissions is January 2nd, 2012. Papers submitted after this date will not be considered.

Please feel free to distribute this call for papers to other researchers that might be working on these and related topics.
